240.free.Sullivan

Date page created or revised: created 13 July 2016

Plans or castings from: freelance

Lettering: unclear

Scale: 1:16

Owner: unknown

Contact: Steve Bratina on the Chaski Live Steam forum should know more.

Builder: Tom Sullivan

Year completed: unknown

Year acquired by present owner: unknown

History, comments:

Photo from Steve Bratina on the Chaski forum on 22 Jan. 2007, taken at the Windsor ON track in 1984. I don't think this is a Raritan: note the driver size and the wide spacing between the drivers.

240.Raritan.Kozo

Date page created or revised: 17 September 2015
Plans or castings from: William Morehead's Raritan
Lettering: not legible on photo
Scale: 1:16

Owner: Probably Kozo Hiraoka of Japan
Contact: The Kozo forums on the "Discover Live Steam" website should be a good start.

Builder: Kozo Hiraoka (born 1937 in Hiroshima)
Year completed: Kozo looks young, so we'll say approx. 1970.

History, comments:

This may have been Kozo's first locomotive. He built it before he began work on his three geared locomotives, each with has its own book. Kozo essentially holds Morehead to be his primary inspiration and mentor. Photo from the IBLs website.

2-4-4T

244T.free.Stevens

Date entry created: 02 July 2016, last revised 26 January 2026

Plans or castings from: freelance

Lettering: Norway Terminal Co. #7

Scale: 1:16

Owner: unknown

Contact: Richard Symmes should know more: "ellis1947(at)comcast(dot)net"

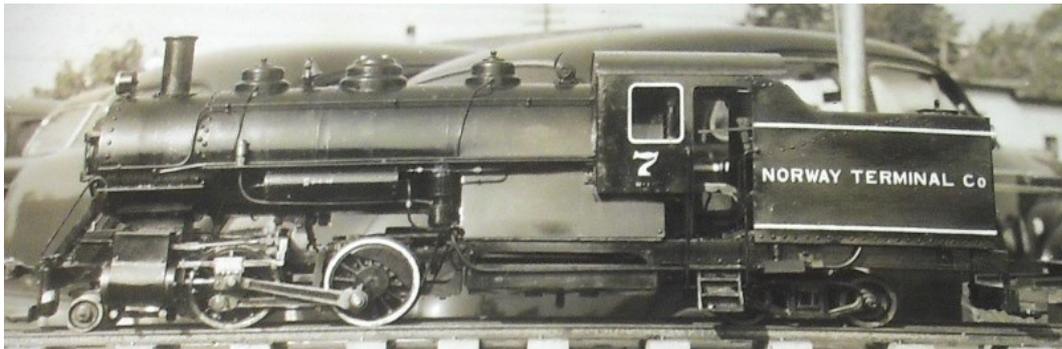

Builder: the late Gene Stevens of Oxford and Norway ME

Year completed: approx. 1939

Year acquired by present owner: Unknown. Bob Smythe was the apparent owner in 1940, later owned by H. Kingman.

History, comments:

I've been mixing up these two standard-gauge 2-4-4T's, I believe they were both built by Gene Stevens. This one ran at the IBLS meet at Danvers MA in October 1950 when it was owned by Kingman, who also had a 3 ½"-gauge 4-4-2 along.

2-4-4T

244T.free.Stevens

Date entry created: 22 May 2017, last revised 26 January 2026

Plans or castings from: freelance

Lettering: Flanders Lumber Co. #10

Scale: 1:16

Owner: unknown

Contact: Try eBay

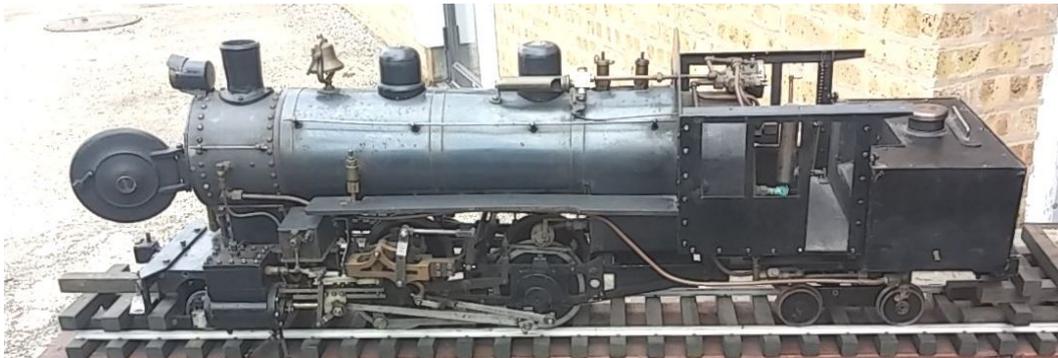

Builder: the late Gene Stevens of Oxford and Norway ME

Year completed: in the early 1940s

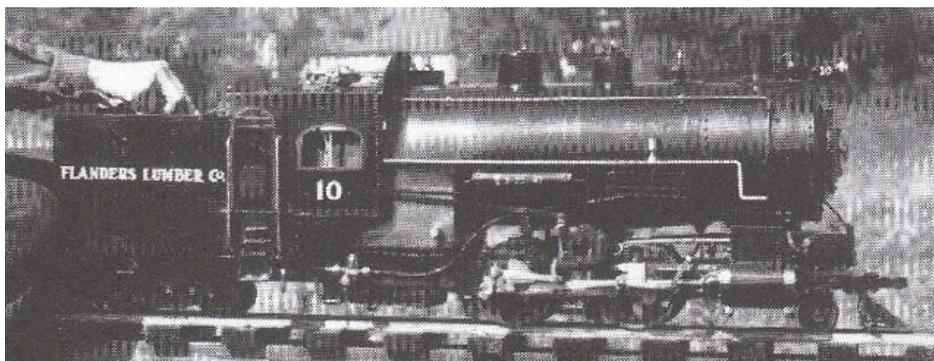

Year acquired by present owner: 2017

History, comments:

Advertised on eBay in May 2017. The owner found the loco somewhere but admits knowing very little about it. Is to be sold as-is. Though standard gauge, it appears to have outside frames. Photo is from eBay.

Bottom photo from the 1940's was taken in Danvers and is from Purinton's "Live Steam of Years Gone By", pg. 112.

2-4-4T

244T.Lucky7.unknown

Date page created: 09 January 2016, last revised 22 November 2022

Plans or castings from: Don Young's Lucky 7

Lettering: B&SR #7

Scale: Young says it's 1 3/4" scale, which works out to 1:6.86 scale

Owner: Perhaps Owen Chapman/UK. Was sold via the "View Models" website in UK around Dec. 2015.

Contact: Owen Chapman from Hemel Hempstead on Facebook will know more.

Builder: unknown

Year completed: 1999

Year acquired by present owner: approx. 12-2015

History, comments:

Previously sold by "Station Road Steam" in Feb. 2013. The classified from 2015 stated: "The overall length of the model is 1.5m with a weight of around 130kg. and with the size comes tractive effort enabling this model to be used for serious passenger haulage. Water feed is provided by hand pump, injector and steam pump. The wooded cab on the original has been replicated in the model using Mahogany. Please note that even though this is a 3.5" gauge model, its size and weight are commensurate with a 7.25" model and requires similar handling abilities."

A Youtube film from 13 July 2017 shows the loco running on the West Huntspill MES in June 2017..

On 15 July 2017, Owen Chapman published on Facebook this photo of the repainted loco running at the club in Colney Heath, Herefordshire.

244T.Lucky7.unknown

Date page created: 06 June 2021, last updated 03 February 2026

Plans or castings from: Don Young's Lucky 7

Lettering: #7

Scale: Young says it's 1 3/4" scale, which works out to 1:6.86 scale

Owner: unknown

Contact: Marc Fenner is on Facebook.

Builder: unknown

Year completed: unknown

Year acquired by present owner: Sold by Marc Fenner from Lindfield in W. Sussex UK about 2023.

History, comments:

Shots are from Facebook on 3 and 9 May 2021. Top shot is on Fenner's Facebook page.

Fenner confessed on his Facebook page on 2 Feb. 2026 that he very much regretted selling this engine. He is now looking for a replacement.

244T.Lucky7.unknown

Date page created or revised: 17 September 2015

Plans or castings from: Don Young's Lucky 7

Lettering: KCRR #7

Scale: Young says it's 1 3/4" scale, which works out to 1:6.86 scale

Owner: Ian James Reddish from Bubwith (south of York UK)

Contact: Ian can be reached via Facebook.

Builder: unknown

Year completed: unknown

Year acquired by present owner: 2015

History, comments:

Ian wrote on the "3 1/2"\(and Smaller\) Gauge Railways" Facebook page in August 2015: My Lucky 7 passed "its steam test a few weeks ago at York. Runs really well although there are a few jobs left to do."

In York, Sept. 2015

2-4-4T

244T.Lucky7.unknown

Date page created: 22 November 2022

Plans or castings from: Don Young's Lucky 7

Lettering: Sandy River & Rangeley Lakes emblem

Scale: Young says it's 1 3/4" scale, which works out to 1:6.86 scale.

Owner: unknown, probably located in the UK

Contact: try the "Station Road Steam" website

Builder: unknown

Year completed: 1992

Year acquired by present owner: Sept. 2009, assuming it hasn't been sold since

History, comments:

Photo and info is from the archives of "Station Road Steam" in the UK. Beautiful model – except that the tender truck does not have the prototypical outside frames. The advert mentions that the loco has working sanders and extended controls for operation.

2-4-4T

244T.Lucky7.unknown

Date page created: 21 October 2017

Plans or castings from: Don Young's Lucky 7

Lettering: none

Scale: Young says it's 1 3/4" scale, which works out to 1:6.86 scale. Advert calls it 1 1/2" scale.

Owner: unknown, last owner located in Simcoe ON

Contact: try the DLS website

Builder: unknown

Year completed: incomplete as of 2017

Year acquired by present owner: Oct. 2017

History, comments:

Just sold on the „Discover Live Steam“ website, October 2017. Ad states that chassis runs on air, but boiler unfinished. Sale includes plans from A.J. Reeves in UK. A quote: “This is a perfect project for someone looking to do minimal machine work.”

260.B&M1480.Purinton

Date page created: 10 November 2015, last revised 20 Sept. 2018

Modeled after or castings from: Charlie Purinton

Lettering: Boston & Maine #1480

Scale: 1:16

Owner: Cap Purinton of Salisbury MA

Contact: Cap can be reached via John Kurdzionak on the Friends Models webpage.

Builder: Charles S. (Charlie) Purinton, 1922-2010, Byfield MA

Year completed: 1985

Year acquired by present owner: probably in 2010

History, comments:

Photo when brand-new at Byfield MA, 3 Aug. 1985, see NELS website

260.free.Alton

Date page created: 22 November 2022
Modeled after or castings from: freelance
Lettering: unknown
Scale: 1:16

Owner: Dougal Hubner of North Saanich BC
Contact: Dougal is on Facebook

Builder: the late Denny Alton, according to Philip Macdonald from BC
Year completed: unknown
Year acquired by present owner: unknown

History, comments:

Especially in view of the Western pilot, this Mogul looks very much like something that would have worked in the woods of British Columbia. Maybe Pacific Great Eastern? Dougal Hubner also has a narrow-gauge 0-8-0 listed in these files. This photo appeared on Facebook on 7 Feb. 2022.

2-6-0

260.free.Emerson

Date page created: 26 November 2015, last revised 29 January 2025

Modeled after or castings from: freelance, but much copied from the 4-4-0 „Virginia“

Lettering: Hillsboro & North Western #1

Scale: 1:16

Owner: Zachary Bender of Hillsboro WI

Contact: Zachary is on Facebook.

Builder: Gib Emerson of Montclair NJ and Earl Clark, NJLS

Year completed: Approx. 1970, rebuild completed 2014

Year acquired by present owner: 2019 from Brian Tusin of Austintown OH

History, comments:

Keith Taylor wrote on the Chaski Live Steam forum in April 2012: “Your chassis was originally intended to be a Pennsy locomotive built by Gib Emerson of Montclair, NJ. He died before finishing the locomotive and the chassis was purchased by the late Jay Duke, also of Montclair. Jay sold the chassis to Earl Clark and he built the boiler and tender, finishing the locomotive. Your locomotive was started in the 1930s.”

Brian Tusin wrote in 2015: “I have rebuilt the engine with my good friend Brian Keim's help. Brian also made an alcohol burner so the engine runs much better then it did on coal. It has very small flues and can only run about 40 minutes on a firing till the tubes are plugged. That was no fun and got very discouraging. Now she will run all day and keep pressure with no problems.” The loco has Joy valve gear.

Zach reported on Facebook, that this loco ran successfully with a repaired R/C system on 11 Nov. 2024. The alcohol burner still needs fine-tuning and he wonders about the necessity of electronic water level detection.

Below is the new paint job and lettering from Zachary Bender in May 2019. Photo from Facebook. The bottom shot is also from Facebook, 5 May 2024.

2-6-0

260.free.unknown

Date page created: 23 October 2019, last revised 24 January 2025

Modeled after or castings from: freelance

Lettering: Boston & Maine #1450, named "John Howe"

Scale: 1:16

Owner: New England Wireless and Steam Museum at E. Greenwich RI

Contact: The museum has a webpage, "newsm(dot)org".

Builder: unknown

Year completed: unknown

Year acquired by present owner: unknown. The exhibit states that the loco is a gift of Selwyn Niveson Blake. Blake is a member of the museum and a ham radio aficionado.

History, comments:

This is apparently the same loco. The author captured the top shot from Youtube in Sept. 2024, it was taken at the New Jersey LS in Oct. 1964. Frank Kreidemaker of Sturbridge MA published the bottom photo on Facebook on 5 Oct. 2019, asking about the engine's history. One can see that it has lost a number of parts.

2-6-0

260.free.unknown

Date page created: 29 August 2015

Modeled after or castings from: Probably based on LBSC Virginia 4-4-0 – see tender for ex.
Does not appear similar to the OS models.

Lettering: none

Scale: 1:16

Owner: Justin Shaw had owned this loco for several years until around Dec. 2014. He is a South African and was then living in Cape Town. He would know who the present owner is.

Contact: Justin is on Facebook and is now living in the Philippines.

Builder: unknown except that built in South Africa

Year completed: unknown

Year acquired by present owner: 2014 in South Africa

History, comments:

As of 2015, loco can be seen running with jacked-up wheels on Youtube. That was done by Justin Shaw.

Modeled after or castings from: based on LBSC's "Virginia"

Lettering: none

Scale: 1:16

Owner: apparently Dean Gordon of California, who is on Facebook

Contact: Larry Fisher's son, Matthew Fisher, is on Facebook.

Builder: unknown

Year completed: approx. 75% complete as of 6/2018

Year acquired by present owner: between 2020 and 2024

History, comments:

Here's a 2-6-0 "Virginia"! Offered for sale on UK's "Station Road Steam" website in June 2018. According to their description, built by a prolific builder who has more than 40 boilers to his credit. Purchased in 2018 by Larry Fisher of Rancho Cucamonga/California, who passed away in Nov. 2019. Dean Gordon inquired on Facebook on 29 May 2024 about the history of this engine.

2-6-0

260.free.VanBrocklin21

Date entry created: 28 July 2017, last revised 22 December 2019

Plans or castings from: Bill Van Brocklin

Lettering: NYC #21 as of 1981

Scale: 1:16

Owner: unknown

Contact: Pat Fahey at "faheypat22(at)yahoo(dot)com" should know more.

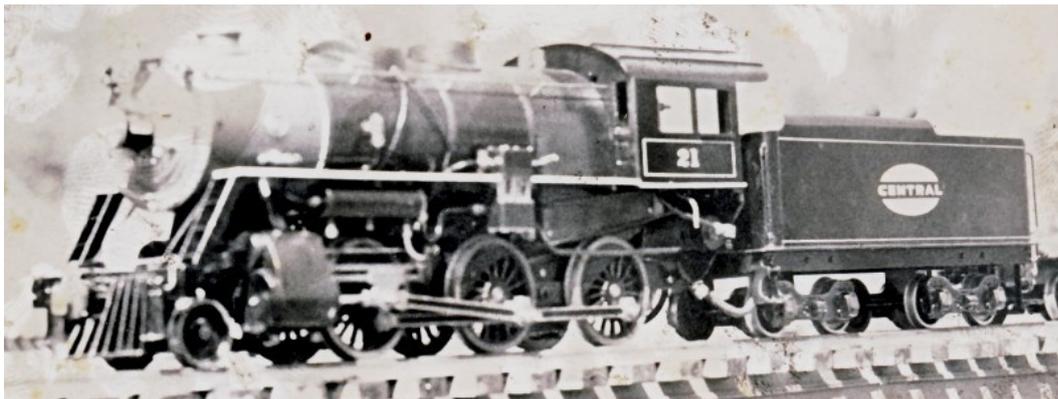

Builder: Bill Van Brocklin (1919-2000) from Dover MA, his 21st loco. He built approx. 41 locos.

Year completed: Built 1980-81. According to Pat Fahey's roster, this is the only 2-6-0 built by Van Brocklin.

Year acquired by present owner: unknown

History, comments:

This one looks very much like a slightly-shortened version of Van Brocklin's fat-boilered ten-wheelers #16-18. Like #18, it has inside valve-gear. Note the Boston & Main-style tender trucks.

2-6-0

260.Kaslo.unknown

Date page created: 27 January 2026

Modeled after or castings from: unknown, probably mostly scratch-built

Lettering: Kaslo & Slocan #2 (tender lettering not visible)

Scale: 1:10 probably, because the line was three-foot gauge

Owner: Offered for sale on "Discover Live Steam" in January 2026. Loco located in Huntsville AL.

Contact: See the "Discover Live Steam" webpage.

Builder: unknown

Year completed: unknown

Year acquired by present owner: unknown

History, comments:

Current owner states that this coal-fired engine last ran in 2021.

According to Wikipedia and others, this was an ore-carrying, 29-mile line in the mountains of British Columbia. It was taken over and standard-gauged by the Canadian Pacific in 1912. A frequent victim of landslides, the line was closed in 1955.

260.OS.Bratina

Date page created or revised: 17 July 2015

Modeled after or castings from: OS Models

Lettering: Toronto Hamilton & Buffalo #23

Scale: 1:16

Owner: Steve Bratina, Cambridge ON

Contact: Chaski Live Steam forum

Builder: OS Models, Japan

Year completed: Unknown. Major rebuild completed by Bratina, 2011.

Year acquired by present owner: approx. 2010

History, comments:

Steve wrote 2011: Here is an engine I am just finishing up. I used an OS Max Baldwin Mogul that I bought used, as a start. The engine was dropped on the floor by the previous owner and had some damage. I used the rolling frame and the boiler and scrapped the rest. The TH&B had three of these engines; the contractor who was building the TH&B bought the engines for construction use. When the railroad was completed, the TH&B bought the Moguls and a couple of ten wheelers. The engines lasted until 1918 and were sold off. The #23 went to the Attica and Arcade and became their #1. There were no plans but only general dimensions from the book on the TH&B, so I used four available pictures to fudge dimensions from. The OS Max engine is a good model and could be the basis of many different prototypes with a little metal work.

Owner: Frank Kreidemaker of Sturbridge MA

Contact: Frank is on Facebook, his eMail is: "fkreider67(at)msn(dot)com".

Builder: Very likely the late Gene Stevens of Oxford and Norway ME. Such slide-valves were also typical for him.

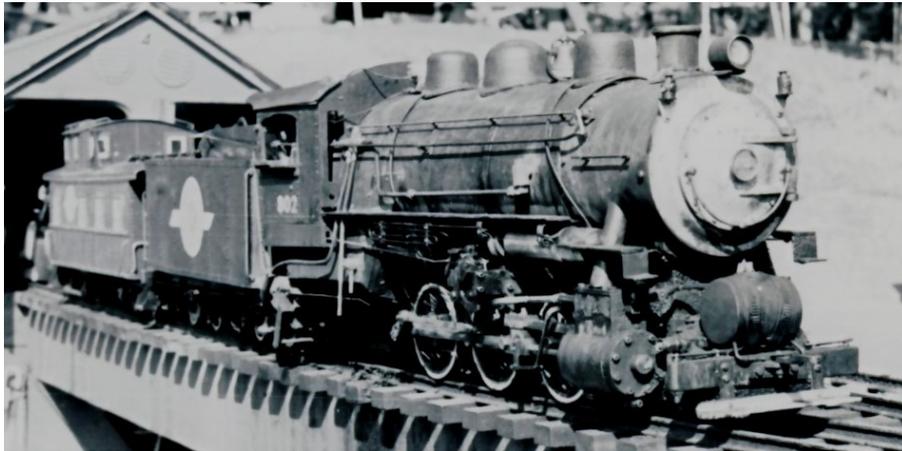

Year completed: probably around 1940

Year acquired by present owner: unknown

History, comments:

Frank wrote on Facebook on 7 May 2021 that this loco has been below his bench for a good while. It needs plenty of work and has some parts missing. Frank wrote in a letter from 7 Nov. 2025 that the engine had begun life as an 0-6-0. Bob Dustin, who owned it during the 1970s, converted it into a 2-6-2. The current overhaul will include new axle boxes, rod bushings and wheel tires. It's occasional name, "Beastie" is due to its heavy 6" boiler.
